COVID-19 Lateral Flow Testing

Ownership of the Personal Data

To enable the coronavirus (COVID-19) testing to be completed at Rosedale College, we need to process personal data for staff and students taking part, including the sharing of personal data where we have a legal obligation. Rosedale College is the Data Controller for the data required for processing the tests and undertaking any actions which are needed by the College to ensure we meet our public health and safeguarding legal obligations.

Personal data relating to tests for students is used with a view to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children as stated in Section 175 of the Education Act 2002.

Personal Data relating to staff is processed under the legitimate interest of data controller to ensure we can minimise the spread of COVID-19 in a timely manner and enable us to continue to deliver education services safely and securely.

If either a student or a member of staff decline a test, we record your decision under the legitimate interest of college in order to have a record of your decisions and to reduce unnecessary contact with you regarding testing.

The processing of special category personal data is processed under the provisions Section 9.2(i) of GDPR, where it is in the public interest on Public Health Grounds. This data is processed under the obligations set out in Public Health legislation (Regulations 3(1) and (4) of the Health Service (Control of Patient Information) Regulations 2002 (COPI)) which allows the sharing of data for COVID-19 related purposes and where it is carried out by an operative at the College who owes an equivalent duty of confidentiality to that data.

Data Controllership is then passed to the Department of Health and Social Care (DHSC) for all data that we transfer about you and your test results. For more information about what they do with your data, please see the Test and Trace Privacy Notice. The establishment remains the Data Controller for the data we retain about you.
