

The Body in the Box

On Tuesday 29th March, our Year 12 Criminology students were given the opportunity to attend a forensics themed workshop called 'Body in the Box' at Brunel University. The purpose of the trip was to provide the students with the opportunity to use their STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics) and Criminology skills within a practical situation via a competitive event. Students were grouped into teams of six and challenged with the task of successfully identifying which missing person's remains were discovered. The way in which they had to identify the body was by successfully applying the DNA, via a pipet, into a testing tray without contaminating the evidence, accurately measuring the remaining bones to figure the individual's height and analysing the skull to assess the cause of death.

The day was an absolute success, as not only did the students learn practical skills useful within their current studies and future careers, but they were also exposed to a high-pressure environment which required them to work with speed and accuracy, work as a team and communicate effectively. Similarly, the host of the event designed the workshop in a similar style to a practical task found within a group job interview. As such, he would often remind the students about the importance of punctuality and the ability to listen to instructions. All students enjoyed the experience, stating that they benefited greatly from the event and would definitely recommend it to future year groups.

Junk Kouture Competition

We are extremely proud to announce that Rosedale College Art students have made it through to the live London City Final of the UK wide competition Junk Kouture. Junk Kouture is a fashion competition where participants design, create and model fashion solely made from recycled items.

Two Year 10 students have been very creative to design and make an astonishing dress, to secure a place in the UK finals which will take place on Thursday 19th May. Junk Kouture will be awarding 10 winners from the live final this year, with the chance of winning tickets to the first ever world final in an exciting location yet to be announced, and compete for the Junk Kouture world title against four other cities including: Dublin, Paris, Milan and New York, and the UAE (United Arab Emirates).

We are extremely proud of our students, and wish them all the luck for the competition.

Recycle, Re-use - College Uniform

In order to tackle the rapidly growing global environmental challenges for a sustainable future, we aim to normalise the reusing of pre-loved college uniform in order to reduce our carbon footprint. This is a great opportunity for our college to embed environmental awareness within our school community, strengthen our green credentials and extend the lifespan of our uniforms whilst supporting a recycling culture.

Should you have any unwanted items of uniform in wearable condition, please donate these to your child's college to support our campaign for green initiatives whilst helping our families in need of support. Further details will be provided shortly.
